

So Much To Do

So much to do, so much undone.

How can I go and leave my loved ones.
I've children at home that still need my care,
how can I go when I should be there?

So much to say, so much unsaid.

Words that need spoken are still in my head.
Things to talk over with my loving mate,
wished I had said them, but it's now too late.

So much to see, so much unseen.

Wonders imagined are still in my dreams.
The plans that we made for our later years
are visions now blurred through heartache and tears.

So much to hear, so much unheard,

my grandchild's first prayer in her very word.
One more sweet whisper of "Hon, I Love You",
in memory's past, will now have to do.

Oh Father, please tell me why did I go,

I've so much to do here that needs my help so.
With so much unheard and still much to see
Please tell me dear Father, I ask of thee.

"My daughter, now listen, I'll speak to you dear,

you've given your best, and I'm pleased with you here.
For I need you to meet with my Holy son,
there's so much to do, there's so much undone."

In Loving Memory

Sally Oxborrow Meservy
January 1, 1955 - November 1, 2002

“And moreover I would desire that ye should consider on the blessed and happy state of those that keep the commandments of God. For behold they are blessed in all things, both temporal and spiritual; and if they hold out faithful to the end they are received into heaven, that thereby they may dwell with God in a state of never ending happiness. O remember, remember that these things are true; for the Lord God hath spoken it.”
